

Multi-Organisational Risk Management Framework

Keynote Speaker: Barry Dennien, CEO, SEQ Water Grid Manager

The SEQ Water Grid Manager does not own infrastructure assets, but holds the urban water entitlements for South East Queensland. The SEQ Water Grid Manager makes strategic and operational decisions that are based on ensuring water is produced and moved to where it's needed most at the least possible cost, to maintain regional water security.

Barry was formerly the Executive Director, Regional Planning and Policy for the Queensland Water Commission where he was responsible for the SEQ Water Strategy and system operation plans for the new SEQ Water Grid.

Barry has qualifications in Engineering and an MBA in International Business, together with 28 years experience in water industry operations and planning, and a successful track record of managing commercial enterprises in the tourism industry.

Presentation Overview:

Barry will discuss designing and implementing a multi-organisational risk management framework and in particular focus on:

- Our four core elements: 1) Risk management, 2) Emergency Response Planning, 3) Business Continuity Planning, and 4) Critical Infrastructure Security Planning.
- Working together to manage the SEQ Water Grid supply chain.
- How do you create flexibility for each organisation while still identifying, assessing and managing risk from a whole-of-Grid (SEQ Water Grid) perspective? Including examples of best for the whole-of-Grid versus best for individual organisations.
