

2022 RISK TEAM OF THE YEAR APPLICATION GUIDELINES

APPLICATION GUIDELINES

The following document outlines the guidelines and criteria required to apply for the Risk Team of the Year Award.

As the largest most respected professional association for risk management practice in the region, the Risk Management Institute of Australasia (RMIA) is strategically committed to excellence in the management of risk. Thus, the Awards presented each year are part of RMIA's strategy of identifying and recognising those RMIA members who are demonstrating and driving excellence in risk management.

Risk outcomes are changing, often they are team driven and not just work of an individual. This year we intend to acknowledge and celebrate risk management teams who were most exceptional in responding to and demonstrating exceptional organisational resilience strategies and approaches; perform interdependent tasks to work toward accomplishing a common mission.

PRIZE

- One year's Membership for each member of the risk team. An interview and profile in the RMIA newsletter. 50% discount on Annual conference tickets for each member of the risk team.

ELIGIBILITY

This award recognises risk management teams who have exhibited exceptional risk management strategies, problem solving and attributes of team cohesion throughout 2022. The criteria will include aspects where the risk team has partnered with the business to deliver strategic or operational outcomes. This may include areas of:

- Infrastructure and Operations
 - Risk management and Compliance
 - Products and Services
 - Physical Infrastructure and Operational Environment
 - Supply Chain Management
 - Organisational Data & Data Analytics
- Strategy and Leadership
 - Technology and Digital Innovation
 - Financial Management
 - Organisational Governance
 - Executive Leadership and Management

- People and Community Engagement
 - Customer Centricity and Needs Anticipation
 - Staff Engagement and Welfare
 - Community Engagement
 - Market Communications
 - Partner and Supplier Management

It should be noted that the above criteria are a guideline to structuring your award submission and are not considered to be collectively exhaustive of elements making up a successful organisational resilience and a resilience response.

WHO CAN NOMINATE?

Nominations must be made by a person familiar with the risk teams' work and ability or be self-nominated.

Nominees must have supporting documentation and declaration from a manager/supervisor.

SELECTION CRITERIA

SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- Up to date resume and a cover letter
- 250-word executive summary
- 750-word submission demonstrating competence against selection & assessment criteria
- A letter or email of confirmation from the organisation with approval of submission
- Each submission and evidence must be from within the previous 12 months.

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

A team, with a team leader, that has worked together on a project or initiative that has benefitted the organisation.

CRITERION 1 - BUSINESS OUTCOME FOCUS

Risk Management Teams require a comprehensive knowledge of their organisation in order to create systems and structures that improve business performance. The nominated team must demonstrate:

- A broad knowledge and understanding of the whole business
- Tangible evidence of the value that the risk management function adds to the organisation
- A substantial and measurable risk management contribution towards significant strategic goals.

CRITERION 2 - APPLICATION OF PROFESSIONAL RISK MANAGEMENT KNOWLEDGE

A team of risk professionals must demonstrate the capacity to apply risk management knowledge to address organisational opportunities and challenges. The nominated team must demonstrate:

- Systematic application of the international risk management standard AS/NZS ISO 31000:2018 for the organisation
- Practical application of the concepts of enterprise risk management including frameworks and systems for the organisation
- Integrative management of the specialist areas of risk management to improve outcomes.

CRITERION 3 - RISK CULTURE

The risk culture of an organisation is critical to the success of the risk function. The nominated team must demonstrate:

- A sense of teamwork that contributed to the enhancement of organisational culture in their organisation.
- Examples of how the risk culture had contributed to the success of the organisation.

JUDGING PROCESS

Applications will be screened by the RMIA assessment panel. This panel will typically be made up of RMIA Board members, RMIA CEO, and the award sponsors representative.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

All applicants will complete the application form and send the required submission information and evidence via email to events@rmia.org.au.

WHY NOMINATE

We encourage all our members to either self-nominate or nominate members in the Risk Management industry as a way of recognising excellence in the industry.

We want all our members to feel included and that they can succeed in their industry and that is why we award our talented members with prizes for excellence in four key areas of Risk Management.

HOW TO COMPLETE AND SUBMIT YOUR NOMINATION

- Check your or your chosen nominated team's eligibility
- Read the Application Guidelines
- Complete the award nomination form
- Collate a folio of evidence that addresses the award criteria
- Submit your nomination to the RMIA corporate office via email: events@rmia.org.au.
